

I feel that mode segmentation on the 160m amateur band is at least as important as on the other HF amateur bands and requires equal protection.